EMPLOYMENT LAW | COMPLIANCE | LITIGATION AND ARBITRATION |

Petra Resing advises companies of different branches in all areas of labour law in and out of court. Her area of activity covers drafting, optimising and negotiating employment and termination agreements, negotiating shop agreements and social plans with the works council as well as supporting clients in regard to pension aspects and restructurings or transactions. Petra Resing's main focus lies on advising her clients in individual employment law aspects and problems arising from the works constitution and union law.

She has furthermore special experience concerning the conclusion and termination of service agreements with executives and managers.

Curriculum Vitae

After her bank apprenticeship, Petra Resing studied law with the focus on labour law at the Westphalian Wilhelms University in Münster. During the legal clerkship which ended in 2001 she worked there as a research assistant at the Institute for Public Economic Law. Before she joined Kümmerlein Rechtsanwälte & Notare in 2008, she practiced as a lawyer at Schindhelm Rechtsanwaltsgesellschaft mbH for seven years. Since 2004 she is a specialised lawyer for labour law.

Petra Resing speaks German and English.
